FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Paradigm Tax Group is thrilled to announce that Tom McDonald and his Indianapolis based firm, Midwest Governmental Services, will join forces with Paradigm Tax Group. Tom has been in the property tax business since the mid 1960's and has built a superior reputation for quality service with his clients and within the assessor community.

Rich Archer, who leads Paradigm's Indianapolis office, said, "I have known Tom for over 20 years and I am really excited to be able to work with him. He has a great reputation within the assessment community and brings with him a tremendous amount of knowledge and experience, having been in the business for over 40 years. Together we will be able to build on the outstanding service capabilities Tom brings to the table and provide him with some additional support to expand service offerings to his current clients. We believe the timing of this combination will allow us to maximize the potential benefits we can provide as we gear up for the 2012 General Reassessment in Indiana."
